View Systems' ViewScan Makes Headlines

BALTIMORE, MD -- (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- June 3, 2010 -- View Systems, Inc. (OTC BB: VSYM.OB), a security and tele-data solutions provider, announced today that the ViewScan Concealed Weapons Detection System was mentioned in a Cumberland Times-News article entitled, "Allegany Courthouse Security Gets Upgrade."

The Allegany County Courthouse recently added the ViewScan technology to its security screening repertoire in an effort to improve security measures.

Lt. Craig Robertson, operations supervisor with the Allegany County Sheriff's Office, stated in the article, "The new system is fast, thorough, customer-friendly and decreases time in line at the entrance during high-volume periods such as jury selection."

The article goes on to mention that the ViewScan is the centerpiece of the new security system; and that visitors have definitely noticed the difference.

Gunther Than, CEO of View Systems, states, "We are delighted to have been mentioned in the Cumberland Times-News. Media exposure and customer testimonials are an excellent way to spread awareness of our innovative security technologies to the community."
